DRAWING OF NEW REGISTRANTS

TWELVE HUNDRED NAMES ARE DRAWN. WILL BE CLASSIFIED BY QUESTIONNAIRES.

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, June 27.—Secretary Baker and other high officials witnessed drawing the numbers to assign the order of service of youths enrolled June 5th for military service. The plan was the same as last year's. New registrants will be put at the bottom of the list in each of five classifications as determined by questionnaires. There were 1200 numbers. The first number drawn was 246.

JUNE 28
AMERICA'S HELP BEING FELT IN ITALY

(By the Associated Press)
Verona, Italy, June 27.—That America's economic help to Europe is beginning to count, is shown by the fact that coal has become relatively less scarce again after a long period of stringency and railway trains are again able to run sharply on time on the trunk lines across northern Italy. This is a most favorable turn of the scales on a product vital to Italian transportation and industry. Producing no coal at home, Italy's stock in the past has been drawn from England and France, but with the French and Belgian coal fields invaded by the enemy, and the difficulties of transportation, coal has been soaring steadily until it was practically out of use for domestic purposes and all the wheels of industry and transportation were slackened. Railways have felt the stringency severely, with trains delayed from lack of fuel. All this has been materially improved of late. British and French coal has been the main course of relief, under the general plan of mutual distribution among the allies, but the large contribution of American coal to the general stock in Europe, has materially helped to solve the coal problem on this side and start the wheels going regularly again.

JUNE 28
MAYOR'S WAR SAVINGS
STAMP PROCLAMATION

Whereas, June 28th, 1918, has been appointed by the President of the United States as War Savings day, and has requested the people to assemble at designated places on said day at two o'clock P. M. and there pledge to him such sum or sums of money as they will loan to the government between said date and the 31st day of December, 1918.
Now, Therefore, I, W. E. Conger, Mayor of the City of Ada, do hereby proclaim all that part of the 28th day of June, 1918, beginning at one o'clock P. M., and ending at five o'clock P. M., as a legal holiday, and do call upon all the citizens of the City of Ada patriotically to close their places of business and lay aside all work and endeavor for them, and there make and pledge to the President the amount of money they will loan to the government to be paid on and after said date as provided in said call.
In Witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand on this the 19th day of June, 1918.

HEALTH MEETING YESTERDAY EVENING

At the Red Cross rooms yesterday afternoon a goodly number of men and women interested in the health of the community heard an excellent address by Mr. Fishman, general secretary of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association. He dwelt upon the necessity of cleaning up unsanitary places in towns and cities and stated that it is a violation of state law to make a sleeping room of a store in which groceries and eatables are sold. Mr. Fishman suggested that if the citizens of Ada so desired, the association would send a sanitation expert to Ada to assist in the matter of putting our town in perfect condition. The matter of a day nurse for our public schools was discussed and met with the approval of all who were present. Supt. Hickman, who was elected chairman of the organization, is heartily in sympathy with the idea of a trained nurse for our schools and considers it easily within the reach of the school board to employ one.

LAST WORD FROM WAR STAMP CAMPAIGN LEADER

To the Loyal Citizens of Oklahoma:
On June 28, 1918, you will be asked to pledge your support to your country.
For God's sake, for the sake of humanity, and for the sake of all that you hold dear, pledge your limit to purchase War Savings Stamps.
If you do your duty, Oklahoma will far exceed its quota. If you fail you will not do your duty and Oklahoma will fail. This is a war of nations and is your war as much as it is mine.
If you do not do your duty, you are no other than a coward or a slacker. This is strong language, but this is the day of strong language.
Results will win the war.
Perhaps you think in your own opinion that you have done your duty. You have not done your duty until you have given all that you can in time and money.
You must do this, if we are to whip the Hun.
The men, who give their lives, give all. Be honest and take yourself to account this morning and see if you really have done your best. This letter will not offend the people who take this war seriously.
If this awakens you to the importance of your part in this war—it is not in vain.
He who does not help, hurts; he who does not work, shirks.
Pledge your limit, and then keep your pledge.
Sincerely,
G. W. BARNES.

GOVERNMENT LETS ROAD AND BRIDGE CONTRACTS.

Oklahoma City, June 27.—Building of the Newcastle bridge across the South Canadian river, southwest from this city, was assured today with the letting of the contract to Olsen & Magee of Kansas City, at $200,800. This, with a number of contracts, known as Federal projects, were disposed of in the office of the State Highway Department this afternoon.
While there is only $175,000 now available for the work of the Newcastle bridge, the project will be proceeded with to the extent of the funds and arrangements will then be made to finish it. The bridge will connect north and south routes through the state.
Federal project No. 3, two miles of hard road on Twenty-Third street, beginning at the Santa Fe tracks and running east, one-half of the work was awarded to M. A. Swatek of this city and the other half to the Western Paving Company, also of this city, the total cost being $47,000.00.
Federal project No. 4, Fort Sill boulevard, running from the Lawton city limits to the south line of Fort Sill military reservation, was awarded to the Western Paving Company of this city for $43,000.
Federal project No. 5, a road from the northern city limits of Durant to the north line of Bryan county, was awarded to R. Y. Walker of this city for $125,000.
State aid work in Oklahoma county was awarded to M. A. Swatek of this city to the amount of $26,000. This is one mile of road on Eastern avenue north from Twenty-Third St., past the Russell Industrial School, half a mile on Lincoln boulevard north from the Capitol, and half a mile on the Norton road south from the city.
Work on the Newcastle bridge must be begun within thirty days.

BRITISH SCHOOL BOYS ORGANIZE FOR WORK

London, May 22.—School boys in Great Britain are organizing this year on a more extensive scale than ever for work during the summer on the farms. Thousands of boys have responded to the call for volunteers and are planning to spend their vacations in the country to aid the farmer in any way possible. The boys are paid on a "piece work" scale.
For agricultural workers of eighteen years old and over in North Hampshire the agricultural wages board recently decided upon the minimum rates for the summer, designating thirty shillings for a six day working week of fifty-four hours. After October the minimum wage is to be the same for an eight-hour day, with one day's rest each week.
Do you give as good as you get? Does your soldier boy fill his letters with accounts of the dis agreeable things he is meeting, or does he cheerfully ignore them and try to make you believe that he is having the best time ever? He knows that you can do nothing to change conditions as he finds them, so, in his fine philosophy, why pass the worrying on to you? Turn the picture around and look at the boy's side of it. You will never know the half of the things he endures; he won't tell you now, and when he comes back he will wave them aside as of no importance. As you can't help him, he can't help you. A grumbling letter, or one full of discouragement, will only make a soldier a little less efficient in his job; you will still have the home problems to tackle. The need is not so much for more letters, but for more cheerful letters, is the word that comes from the camps. "The mud-soaked 'Old Bill' of the trenches, cheerfully ignoring vermin, rain, and shell-fire, continue to wind up their epistles with, 'Hoping to find you in the pink, as it leaves me at present,'" says Lieutenant Dawson. "They are always in the pink for epistolary purposes, whatever the straining or the weather." We at home should be "in the pink." We should do more than "keep the home fires burning"; we should let them shine on and in the letters that we send to camp.—William Frederick Bigelow in Good Housekeeping.

Horse Sense

When the government sells War Savings Stamps it takes no money out of the country. What it does is ask the farmer, the manufacturer and the laborer to sell their products on time and it gives an interest bearing note in advance, until you and these other producers can make the supplies to conduct the war. The War Department can't shoot houses and lots and grain at the Germans. It asks the producers to grant it the credit first and then get busy and make the supplies it needs. Buy War Savings Stamps and see Uncle Sam and yourself through. It's just plain horse sense.

The War Stamp meeting at the compress shed tomorrow afternoon is expected to be the largest of any kind ever held in Ada. The business houses will be shut tighter than a drum and proprietors and employees alike will attend the meeting. It means a great deal to make short work of the campaign by attending and signing the pledges called for.

If the air is unusually blue and supercharged with electricity next week the public need not be alarmed. It will be the mailing department and postoffice clerks trying to readjust themselves and figure out the new postal regulations on papers which go into effect July 1.

That old rough, rocky hill in the outskirts of Ada has been repaired and it is now smooth sailing over this particular place. In behalf of the citizens of Stonewall, we express our sincere appreciation for this favor. —Stonewall News.

While all rejoice in the great victory of the Italians, it is well not to be overconfident. It should be remembered that the Austrian lines in the mountains, west of the recent disaster, are still intact, although the Italians are striking there and gaining some ground. The Italians cleared the west bank of the Piave but late dispatches indicate that the high water has washed off many of the bridges they threw across the stream to pursue the Austrians, so it is not probable that the Austrians will be forced to fall back very far at this time, unless the waters suddenly recede and the Italians thus enabled to gain a sure footing on the east side of the river at once. However, the victory was a most notable one and its effect on the morale of the victors cannot be overestimated. They now have a heart for the battle and when they strike it will be with vigor and force.

CONVERSION OF LIBERTY BONDS
Liberty bonds of the first and second issues and those obtained by converting bonds of the first issue into 4 per cent bonds can be converted into 4 1/2 per cent Liberty bonds during the six months' period beginning May 9 and ending November 9, 1918. The new bonds will be dated May 9, 1918.

After November 9, 1918, no further rights of conversion will attach to the 4 per cent bonds, either the original bonds of the second issue or those obtained by conversion of bonds of the first issue. All of the 4 1/2 per cent bonds are non-convertible. Bonds for conversion may be surrendered at any Federal Reserve bank or at the treasury department. Registered bonds must be assigned to the Secretary of the Treasury for conversion, but such assignment need not be witnessed.

On conversion of registered bonds registered bonds only will be delivered, neither change of ownership nor change into coupon bonds being permitted. Coupon bonds, however, may be converted into registered bonds upon request. Coupon bonds must have the May 15 or June 15, 1918, coupons detached and all subsequent coupons attached. Coupon bonds issued from conversion will have only four interest coupons attached, and later must be exchanged for new bonds with the full number of coupons attached.

FRENCH FIGHTER

DOWNED 6 PLANES

Paris, June 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Lieutenant Rene Fonck, the young French aviator, believes that he has sent down at least 60 machines. He is twenty-four years old, is cool in battle and handles both machine-gun and airplane with great skill.

Fonck was leading two other companions on a patrol in the Morquididier sector on May 8 when the French squadron met three German two-seater airplanes coming toward them in arrow formation. Signaling to his companions, Lieutenant Fonck dived at the leading German plane and, with a few shots, sent it down in flames. Fonck turned to the left and the second Hun followed in an effort to attack him from behind but the French man made a quick turn above him and with five shots sent the second Hun down to death. Ten seconds had barely elapsed between the two victories.

The third Hun headed for home, but when Lieutenant Fonck appeared he gave up the chase and turned back towards the French lines, the German went after him and was flying parallel and a little below, when Fonck made a quick turn, drove straight at him and sent him down within a half a mile of the spot where his two comrades hit the earth.

This ended the first engagement. Several German observation balloons had been brought down by French aviators. Lieutenant Fonck returned to his camp and waited three quarters of an hour for the Germans to learn of that fact and send their chaser planes to the scene of action. Then he, with two companions went out to meet them. Above Montdidier, he came upon a German plane which was regulating the enemy artillery fire, dived 2,000 feet and sent the German plane to earth with a few shots. Taking refuge in a cloud Fonck lost his two companions. Emerging from the mist to start for his own lines, Lieutenant Fonck saw before him four single-seater Pfalz airplanes protected, at 1,500 hundred feet above, by five German Albatrosses, making for the French trenches with the converging planes leading. In a ten second fight, Fonck overtook the rear Pfalz machine, fired and saw it fall.

At the sound of his gun, the two Pfalz machines in the center of the German group turned, one to the right, and the other to the left to attack the daring Frenchman, but Fonck drove his airplane swiftly ahead, and overtook the fourth Pfalz machine. A few shots under its tail sent it down in flames and the victor flew off to safety, leaving the two other Pfalzes and five Albatrosses wondering what had struck the squadron.

The air fights were staged from 4:500 to 6,000 feet up. The first German fell at 4:05 p. m. and the last at 6:55 p. m.

Lieutenant Fonck used an ordinary Spad machine equipped with two rapid fire guns. He has been a pilot since 1915, passing into a chaser squadron about a year ago. On the day following his six victories he was made an officer of the Legion of Honor and subsequently was promoted first lieutenant.

SINN FEINERS STRONG GERMAN SYMPATHIZERS

Dublin, May 27 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—"Ireland is not pro-German," declare all the Irish leaders, but there is a considerable element in Dublin, Cork, and other Irish cities, that is ready to cry "Up the Hun" at every opportunity.

During the week following the arrest of De Valera and the other Sinn Fein leaders, the strains of the "Watch on the Rhine" were frequently heard on Dublin streets, sung by small crowds of Sinn Fein sympathizers. It has been frequently reported that Irish hoodlums at the moving picture theaters have hissed pictures of British and American soldiers, and sailors, and a letter in a Dublin newspaper this week states that a moving picture audience cheered a picture of the medal cast by the Germans to commemorate the sinking of the Lusitania.

One of the most remarkable scenes which the Associated Press correspondent witnessed in Dublin was the enthusiastic cheering of a ship-load of German interned prisoners, who were being taken from a camp in Ireland to a camp on the Isle of Man. A crowd of several hundred persons, mostly wearing Sinn Fein colors and waving Sinn Fein flags, stood on the quay and sang the Sinn Fein "Soldiers' Song" to the departing prisoners. Many of the members of the crowd were relatives by marriage of the interned aliens.

The prisoners were practically the entire population of a camp established early in the war at Oldcastle, Ireland, for German civilian prisoners. They were 450 in number, and were embarked from a Dublin dock on a Sunday morning. From an early hour their Irish friends began gathering along both sides of the river. A strong military force was present and took complete possession of the quay alongside which the steamer was berthed.

Before the special train carrying the prisoners arrived at the dock, there appeared a freight train of ten cars, containing the "baggage" of the Germans. This amounted to ten car-loads of the most unusual baggage that was ever handled on the bank of the river Liffey. There were pianos, double-bass violins, and the whole set of instruments for the camp band; there were sailors' sea trunks of great variety; there was a grandfather clock of huge proportions, and a complete set of theatrical "properties" and stage scenery, which told of entertainments past or for future production.

Khaki-clad dockmen perspired over the job of arranging these mountains of baggage into slings, hoisting them on board the steamer, and stowing the stuff away in the hold.

The train with the German and Austrian travelers arrived in the station across the road from the river, and was cheered by the crowd outside the gates. Handkerchiefs were waved by the women, and the prisoners waved back out of the train windows.

Several times the crowd made a rush toward the quayside, but the military and police allowed no entrance to the dock sheds and the crowd of onlookers finally took up positions on top of lumber piles lower down the river wall, where the boat could be seen and cheered as it started down the river.

Sinn Fein scarfs and ribbons were worn by most of the women in the crowd. A similar crowd quickly collected on the south wall, across the river, where the men and women sang over and over the Sinn Fein songs, and cheered themselves hoarse as the deportees were brought onto the decks of the steamer.

Then suddenly the strains of a brass band, playing a medley of German airs, floated out on the water. It was the aliens' camp band in action. As they played, the boat started, cheers were raised again, the steamer gained headway, the cheering died down and the crowds began to disperse. The soldiers and police on the docks fled back to their barracks and the festivities were over.

SUBMARINE BLOWN UP BY SHEEP EXPLOSION
London, June 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—How a submarine which destroyed a munition ship was itself wrecked by the explosion is related in a British Admiralty statement.

The ship was torpedoed without warning by the U-boat, which then rose to the surface and opened fire with her guns. The German's second round exploded in the ammunition hold.

So terrific was the explosion that followed that the submarine was almost demolished by the concussion. Her gun was lifted and flung sideways, her side was torn out and she foundered almost as quickly as the steamer.

MAZOLA

Is another delicacy that America has discovered for the world

If folks only knew what food experts and diet specialists know about Mazola, nobody would worry about the shortage of animal fats and olive oil.

Mazola, the pure, wholesome, cooking and salad oil from Indian Corn, makes food better and better tasting. Used for frying, sautéing, and shortening, it agrees with the most delicate stomach—never carries odors or flavor from one food to another and can be used to the very last drop.

Mazola isn't a substitute. It's a true energy-giving food-oil, with a delicious flavor all its own.

Mazola makes a smooth, delicate salad dressing that many prefer to olive oil.

Being an oil and not a solid fat, Mazola requires no melting—can be measured exactly, saves time, prevents waste.

CORN FRITTERS

MRS. SCOTT
1 cup of flour
1/2 cup of milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoonful of Mazola
1/2 teaspoonful of pepper
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and pepper into bowl; add milk, well-beaten eggs, Mazola and grated corn, or if canned corn is used put it through meat chopper. Add, mix well and fry in deep hot Mazola. It is best to make the fritters small. You are then sure they will be done through. Use a teaspoonful for each fritter. 2 St. Clara fritters are made the same way, using one cup of canned minced clams instead of corn, or one cup of fresh clams put through the meat chopper. When using fresh clams less milk is used.

Mazola is always uniform. Its preparation is scientific and exact. For sale in pints, quarts and gallons. (The large sizes are specially economical.) Get a can from your grocer today.

Ask your grocer for the valuable Cook Book especially prepared for Mazola users—or write us direct. FREE.

It doesn't require courage to buy War Savings Stamps—merely a love of freedom. As a free man buy liberally, June 28.

Clark Fulks who was a student at East Central through most of the regular school year recently offered his service to the government and was sent to the West End Naval Training Station at New Orleans. After two months training he was one of nineteen lads who were chosen for signal corps work in the navy and will soon be sent to Hampton Roads to complete his training on land. At Hampton Roads he will rank as third-class quarter-master but upon going to sea his rank will be second-class. His work at the Roads will probably last but a few weeks. Clark is only a youngster but his rapid advance is no surprise to those who followed his work at East Central. He expects to visit friends at Ada on his way east sometime between June 20 and 29.

You may not be able to fight but you can save and buy War Savings Stamps, June 28th.

ECONOMY URGED ON BRITISH PEOPLE

London, May 29 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Urging the people of Great Britain to economize and invest all their surplus earnings in war bonds, Andrew Bonar Law, British Chancellor, has given advice that may be heeded in every allied nation. He said in an interview:

"Lives must be lived more simply. Personal, household, and business expenses must be reduced to the minimum."

"The surplus of weekly or monthly earnings over necessary expenditure must be invested straightway in National War Bonds or War Savings Certificates."

"Current balances at the bank should be kept as small as possible and the money invested in National War Bonds."

"Private individuals with money on deposit in banks should draw as much as they can and invest in National War Bonds."

"Business people and firms with money on deposit should withdraw all not absolutely needed for their operations and invest it all in National War Bonds."

"I am confidently looking forward to the reinvestment in war bonds of a very large part of the £50,000,000 in dividends which fall due on Saturday," added the Chancellor.

The Chancellor does not contemplate another long-dated loan and is convinced that the method of continuous weekly borrowing is best from every point of view.

Outlining an agreement with the principal banks whereby the latter will reduce their high deposit rates and urge customers to place their surplus funds in war bonds, Mr. Bonar Law said, "the importance of this cannot be exaggerated. The amount of deposits in the banks is steadily increasing. It is from the deposits that the subscriptions to the war bonds ought to come."

"To lend one's money to the country by buying war bonds is a national service second only in importance to actual participation in the armed conflict. Nobody's money can be neutral."

"I am confident that the good sense and patriotism of the nation will make it unnecessary to ration money."

"If every investor, big and small, throughout the country would make it a regular habit to set aside weekly a definite portion of their resources, for immediate investment in war bonds, the £25,000,000 a week I am asking would easily be forthcoming."

HOTEL MEN HELP RECRUITS TO GAIN WEIGHT

(By the Associated Press)

New Orleans, June 27.—Scores of young men, informed by army and navy doctors that they were underweight have hied themselves to the Gulf coast and explained to hotel or boarding house proprietors that the duration of the war depended upon their gaining so many pounds in a certain length of time.

At first some of the boarding house and hotel proprietors were unenthusiastic over the prospects of a disappointed would-be soldier or sailor and loss of patronage to their establishments. Later, according to those who have returned, whenever a youth, rather pale and slim applied for board he was greeted with the question, "How much do you have to gain and when must you report?"

"It's easy when you know how," one boarding house proprietor explained. "They go out and swim in the salt water, get an enormous appetite and we feed them coarse, nourishing food, nothing fancy. They gain several pounds a day, some of them."

Line the War-Clouds With Your Silver

LAST April the war-cloud left the horizon and spread over our entire sky.

Its silver lining consists solely of the resources of America in men and money.

For these alone can bring a victorious, swift end to the war.

To keep that silver lining bright and evident, all of us who stay at home must do certain simple and very necessary things.

First of all we must save—not only large amounts with which to buy Liberty Bonds, but small coins to buy Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps.

These small savings are really as important as the larger ones.

Through them the government expects us to lend the country two billion dollars—eight billion quarters.

Every quarter you save by doing without unnecessary luxuries buys a Thrift Stamp.

When you get sixteen of these Thrift Stamps turn them in at any post office, bank or regular appointed agent and you will get one War Savings Stamp.

This savings stamp is the government's promise to pay you, at the end of five years, one five-dollar gold piece.

These $5.00 War Savings Stamps are exchangeable for cash any time between now and January 1, 1923, upon giving ten days' written notice to any money order post office. You get the cost price plus accumulated interest.

By buying them you make available money that now has no effect in hastening victory—and swift victory is the silver lining of the war-cloud over us.

Begin buying them now—and keep on buying.

Your post office money order station, or your bank, can sell them to you and tell you everything you want to know about them.

LATE TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By the Associated Press)

Amsterdam, June 27.—Twenty-two women are candidates for parliament in the Dutch general election to be held July 3. This innovation is due to the revised constitution. Political writers say that should the women be elected they will present a solid front for women's political rights. They have been nominated by nine different parties.

The clerical and other parties of the Right do not propose to have any women representatives in parliament. Dublin, June 27.—One of the latest suggestions to assist recruiting in Ireland is that the government confer on every Irishman who has fought in the great war the right to bear letters after his name—preferably an additional syllable to be attached to the name—denoting service in the army or navy. The name with its suffix of honor, would thereafter be borne by him and his descendants.

New York, June 27.—Ration cards for smokers have been introduced in Austria, says a Vienna dispatch published in Berlin newspapers. Each smoker is allowed six cigars and eighteen cigarettes or half a package of tobacco.

Tomorrow Is the Day

We lay our offering at the foot of Freedom's altar. Each and every subscription to our government's War Savings Stamps is a prayer to Almighty God to save the peoples of the earth from the despotism of a conscienceless foe that threatens the destruction of all the great principles of individual rights and the rights of others imposed by the laws of God and man.

From over the seas, on the shell-torn battle front in France, our young heroes are mutely signalling us to do our duty tomorrow—to aid with every sacrifice within our power to keep them supplied with the sinews of war.

With a million American soldiers in France, equipped by loving hands at home, and cheered by the knowledge that we are with them in thought and deed we will interpose a barrier of steel across the enemy's ruthless march that not all the wolves of Prussia will ever break or bend.

Let none of us shrink from our high and holy duty tomorrow, and the next day and the next, so long as the boys we love in Europe need our help and cheer.

WHAT WILL THE MESSAGE BE?

(By Luther Harrison in the Star-Democrat)

If the wireless today should bring the message that our 900,000 soldiers were at death grips with the Hun, you would forget all else but the boys in the battle lines.

If the wires should bring the story that the boys from Pontotoc county were the bravest of all American soldiers and did most deadly execution, you would be proud of every lad we have ever sent over seas.

But if the wires should tell us that of all the men who marched down into the valley of the shadow, the Pontotoc boys were the only ones who acted the coward and fled in terror from the foe, you would be ashamed of your county and probably would never want to see those boys again.

But there is another side to the picture and another army is in the battle lines.

The 100,000,000 people of America are entering a war stamps campaign. On June 28 every school house in this republic will be converted into a bivouac and every citizen will be called to the colors. And on that day the eyes of nine hundred thousand soldiers will be turned toward the homeland with an interest as intense as you manifest when they storm the gates of death.

Suppose the wires convey to them the message that of the many thousand counties of America Pontotoc was among the first to raise her quota, will not our soldier boys be proud of Pontotoc and cheer every mention of her name?

But suppose the wires convey to them the story of our apostasy and tell them how among the counties of America Pontotoc was one that failed in the hour of peril and refused to support the boys who have given to their country everything that life can cherish. Never again would they mention their home county and never again would they want to see the county from which they came.

You expect the lads of the line to maintain the reputation of your county. They expect you to maintain your county's good name here at home.

OFFICIAL FOOD NEWS OF FEDERAL FOOD ADMINISTRATION

J. CECIL BROWN, Director of Education, Oklahoma City.

USE OF BEEF CUT TO FEED ARMIES

The United States Food Administration has turned its attention to the cutting down of the consumption of beef, as a result of a depletion of the supply in this country and evidence that the eating of beef must be curtailed here if our armies are supplied.

To show what a small amount of beef is available for domestic consumption, on June 1 there was less than three days' supply on hand. On January 1 there was 346,000,000 pounds of beef in storage. This had dwindled to 227,000,000 pounds on June 1, of which 130,000,000 pounds was meat in process of preparation and shipment for allied and army use, leaving less than three days' supply to this country.

Strict conservation of beef must be practiced at least until September 15, according to a message which C. B. Ames, federal food administrator for Oklahoma, has received from Herbert Hoover. Rules have been prepared putting both public eating houses and home consumers on voluntary beef rations.

The new rules are:
—Eating houses must not serve boiled beef more than two meals weekly.
—Roast beef must not be served more than once a week.
—Beef steak must not be offered on menus more than one meal each week.
—Household use is requested not to buy more than one and a fourth pounds of clear beef weekly per person in the household, including the bone, and a half pound for by-products of beef which are not exported, such as hearts, livers, etc. Neither do restrictions apply to mutton or lamb.

THE CONQUERING SPIRIT.
"I can't get labor; machinery is high; I am increasing my acreage."
—An American Farmer.

"My left wing is broken; my right wing is crushed; we are attacking in the center all along the line."
—General Pershing.

STATE NORMAL WHEATLESS

Sixteen hundred students attending summer school at the Central State Normal at Edmond have voted to do without wheat products for the term, and longer if necessary. Action was taken following a talk by C. H. Russell, food administrator for Oklahoma county.

SUGAR BOWLS IN DISCARD

Sugar bowls in public eating houses have gone into the discard in Oklahoma. Instead of the old-fashioned sugar bowl in which the customer was wont to plunge for six or seven helpings, the patron now is ladled out two teaspoonful in a small envelope. Persons in their homes are asked to use no more than two teaspoonful of sugar each meal to assure that they will keep within the three-pound limit per month.

SAVING WASTE IN ICE

Care in the handling of ice is requested both by the food and fuel administrations in messages to C. B. Ames, federal food administrator for Oklahoma. Waste of ice must be avoided, not because of any anticipated shortage, but to save supplies which are essential to other important industries.

FOOD BRIEFS

Sugar sunk in the bottom of a tea cup or a coffee cup is the same as sugar sunk in the bottom of the ocean by a submarine—it's wasted.

There are always a few people who refuse to do what the government asks them. But this should not be an excuse for the rest of us to do likewise.

Reduce the salt.
In wheat and meat.
And eat the taste.
In substitute.

There is a work for every person to do in this war—food is ammunition, are you wasting it?

Sugar wasted in America would keep many little children in the countries of our allies from starvation.

If you have a food conservation plan or recipe pass it on to your neighbors and your friends—be "in the service."

That idle acre is a German misdeed for an American heart.

We must conquer the whims of our own appetites before we can hope to conquer the German menace.

Give up fried food; save the fats to defeat the Kaiser. A certain amount of fat each day is necessary to human life. Don't waste an ounce; it means the life of someone somewhere in the world.

BIG DRIVE TOMORROW

ALL BUSINESS STOPS AT 1 P. M. AND CITIZENS GATHER AT COMMISS.

At 1 p. m. Friday all business houses, all public work and all lines of human endeavor are expected to cease operations and repair to the Ada compress grounds, where the big War Savings Stamp campaign to raise Ada's quota in the matter will be launched.

That you are going to be present is assured. The government has proclaimed the afternoon of June 28th a holiday and commanded every American citizen to assemble at the places designated by the authorities, the names of all who willfully stay from these meetings being taken and turned in to the powers that be. Make your subscription as large as possible. You'll have to do something in the matter. Do your best.

SPAIN SHOWN FOLLY OF PRO-GERMAN SYMPATHY

(By the Associated Press)

Barcelona, Spain, June 26.—Captain F. H. La Guardia, of New York City, Representative in the American Congress, has told the Spanish people that they and their government are injuring themselves by friendliness toward Germany. He pointed out in an interview given to the Barcelona La Publicidad that while Spain was taking this attitude, her vessels carrying raw materials were being ruthlessly sunk by German submarines.

Publication of the interview has caused a stir throughout Spain. Representative La Guardia has completed a trip through Spain to study the effect of the many-sided German propaganda floated there. He finds that about 50 per cent of the "thinking classes" in Spain are avowedly for the Entente against Germany, but that the great mass of the working classes, and the Spanish government thus far, have been swayed by the German press campaign especially by the anti-American feature of it, to disregard Spain's real interests. The government, he believes, would turn to a pro-Entente attitude, at least, if American standpoints and ideals were better known.

This however he thinks is impossible as long as the Germanophile portion of the press continued to keep alive bitterness resulting from the Spanish-American war and the loss of Cuba and the Philippines while it belittles or ignores the sinking of Spanish ships with the consequent loss of materials intended to keep Spanish industry alive.

"You understand," he told the Barcelona paper, "that unless Spanish factories receive the greater part of their raw materials from the United States they cannot continue to operate. Then why, can anyone tell me, do German submarines lie in wait off the Spanish shores in order to sink Spanish ships carrying raw materials for Spanish factories to work with? Are the Germans and Austrians at war with the Spanish people? Are their means of livelihood? Because surely it is no punishment to the United States when German submarines sink Spanish ships bringing raw cotton for the mills of Catalonia."

"Germany is trying to weaken you by crippling your industries through the destruction of your mercantile fleet. Since 1915 Germany has destroyed not less than 78 of your merchant ships with a total tonnage of over 160,000 tons. They were mostly coming to Spain laden with raw materials for your factories. Just because Germany is at war and destined to defeat is no reason why she should destroy the Spanish merchant fleet. Germany does not want Spanish commerce to flourish."

"We want to do business with Spain. Business with us after the war will be on an equal footing with reciprocal profits and mutual advantages. Business with Germany will mean to what it has always meant—commercial domination and industrial exploitation."

"Our victory means your prosperity."

WOULD ORGANIZE GIRLS FOR WAR WORK.

(By the Associated Press)

Fayetteville, Ark., April 9.—To organize all the young women in America in a body similar to the Boy Scouts for the purpose of more effectively placing the women-power of the country at the disposal of the government, is the plan of Miss Byrd Mock, prominent California club woman. Miss Mock is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and her alma mater will, it is claimed, be the first school in the country to organize its women. Plans for organization are now under way here and at the University of California.

The organization is to be called the American Girls Legion and is to include all young women between the ages of 16 and 20. It is planned to mobilize all women in the colleges and universities of the country this spring and to extend organization to high schools in the fall. The movement had the endorsement of Herbert Hoover, Dr. Ray L. Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford and now a member of the Federal Food Administration, and of the Women's National Council of Defense.

TAKING OVER GERMAN HOLDINGS IN AMERICA

Washington, April 9.—Now that Congress has enacted a law which provides that all the great German holdings of property and investments in the United States shall be sold to the highest bidder, the alien property custodian already invested with probably the greatest trust funds in the world, will undertake the task of breaking up these outposts of Kultur which in the years gone by have been nothing less than agencies of the German military and diplomatic system.

The same law authorized the president to take title to the great German steamship piers and wharves at Hoboken, New Jersey. During the war these will be used by the army and navy. What will become of them afterward had not been entirely planned.

But the auction of German property interests and investments will put on the market some of the "nest eggs" held in America by many prominent German statesmen and even by the German emperor. His holdings are said to be "gilt edge" and although held in some cases through other persons, they are sure to be uncovered by the relentless search of the alien property custodian.

Combating every device to conceal German ownership in American concerns, probing into the facts regarding every suspicious company, seizing wherever there is evidence of an enemy alien ownership, the value of stock in American corporations, so far taken over by A. Mitchell Palmer, the Alien Property Custodian, is enormous.

The possession of the stock is these corporations carries with it the control of large lumber companies, cement concerns, brewery establishments, chemical works, trust institutions and manufacturing plants of all kinds. In all of these, the alien property custodian, having the majority of the stock, has placed a majority of directors to represent the government during the period of the war and so long afterward as may be necessary.

More than fifty large companies, ranging in value as high as $15,000,000 each, are already under government control in this way, and a heavy interest in many other concerns has been taken over through the operations of the alien property custodian's office. The purpose is to maintain and continue the production and development of these corporations for the advancement of American industries. Thorough and permanent Americanization of these corporate industries is proposed under the power of sale given by the amendments to the urgent deficiency appropriation act.

Inquiries coming into the alien custodian's office from every direction indicate that the exact scope of this arm of the government, with its ramifications not only throughout continental United States but into Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and elsewhere, is not clearly understood. It seems to be a bit puzzling to many how an American corporation, existing under the United States laws and doing business in the United States, can be seized by the alien property custodian as if the corporation were an enemy alien. The custodian frequently announces that he has appointed a board of directors of some large American corporation, despite the fact that there seems to be no provision in what is known as the "Trading with the Enemy Act" which gives him any such authority. This procedure, however, is simple, effective and altogether regular.

The Trading with the Enemy Act, under which the office of the alien property custodian is created, requires every corporation in the United States to transmit to him a full list of its stockholders who are known to be, or whom it has reasonable cause to believe to be, "enemies." When these reports disclose that a majority of the corporation's stock is "enemy held," the custodian issues a demand on the corporation, or on the person holding the certificates for such stock in this country, to cause to be transferred to him in his official capacity all the enemy-held stock. Upon compliance, the custodian becomes the holder of the majority of the stock, with right to ask a representation of the board of directors proportionate to his holdings, and through the installation of these government nominees the corporation's affairs are conducted or supervised under the government general direction.

All the right, title and interest of the enemy in the stock so demanded becomes vested in the custodian and the urgent deficiency law, through its amendments which were fought over in congress, empower him to sell the stock. Being sold to American citizens, this will effectually Americanize all these corporations that heretofore have been German controlled and the question after the war, it is announced, will relate to the distribution of the proceeds of the sale and not to the restitution or distribution of the stock itself.

The Trading with the Enemy law was approved by President Wilson October 6. It prohibits trading directly or indirectly, in any manner whatever, with the enemy. In anticipation of the declaration of war, last April 6, and the passage of this law, many of the American corporations owned by Germans tried to cover up the situation by adroitly selling the German held stock to American citizens, taking payment therefor in notes payable after war, or in 1935, or at some other distant date, and holding the stock as collateral to such notes. Another way was to incorporate a German partnership in this country and issue stock in payment, which in turn would be sold by the German agents to American citizens for a nominal consideration, or for a consideration represented in long-time, non-interest bearing notes. This was with the hidden purpose of simply holding the German interests free from the operation of the Trading with the Enemy Act until after the war, when the property would be stored to the original German owners.

The corporation returns do not disclose upon their face the interest which the enemy really has in them. If the plans resorted to were carried out prior to the declaration of war, it is claimed they were legal and cannot now be assailed by the alien property custodian and the fact that such acts were done in anticipation of the war declaration does not invalidate them any more than the acts done in anticipation of the passage of tariff laws are invalid.

Custodian Palmer, however, has indicated his determination to make demand for corporate stock in which he has reason to believe the enemy really is interested. In all cases up to today, according to Mr. Palmer, the American citizens who in the first instance may have taken stock with the intention of holding it for their German friends have, on second thought, recognized that they should be American citizens first and that their individual interests should be second and they have turned over these stocks to the Alien Property Custodian.

EARLY STORAGE IS ESSENTIAL TO SAFETY

Early storing of coal in Oklahoma is receiving the attention of consumers, but the attention that is given to it is in no wise what it ought to be, according to information given out today from the office of P. A. Norris, Federal Fuel Administrator for Oklahoma. If consumers want to avoid heatless days, as some of the citizens of this state could not do last winter, there is just one way to do it and that is to get the coal in the bins this spring and early summer.

If the bins are not large enough, the consumers ought to begin to enlarge them. At least, provision should be made to store not less than 75 per cent or 80 per cent of the normal year's supply. It would be still better to store 90 per cent.

Many dealers in the state are writing that they want to buy coal now, but the consumers do not seem to be interested, and the dealers themselves do not have the storage capacity. It is up to the dealers and the consumers to work in co-operation in this matter and take care of the problem now.

The question of storing coal in a time of plenty—that is when transportation difficulties are at a minimum—was first agitated in New York where it was proposed to use the old reservoir in Central Park as a storage place for a summer's surplus of coal so as to avoid any possibility of a coal famine in the winter.

It has remained for the State of Mississippi to show itself the most forehanded in the campaign to get in its coal early. The Legislature of Mississippi has just passed an act authorizing the municipalities within its border to establish, maintain and operate municipal coal and wood yards for the purpose of providing fuel "During the period of the present war and for one year thereafter." Under this act municipalities are authorized to borrow the money necessary to establish the yards, unless there is a protest in any municipality made by not less than twenty per cent of the population of that particular municipality.

Such a law is ample insurance that the citizens of Mississippi will not suffer for fuel this winter and it is highly probable, remembering what happened last winter, that other states will follow Mississippi's example.
